

Research into the Best Practices for Incorporating Moral Growth into the Creation of College Students' Vocational Education

BON VIEW PUBLISHING

Wendong Wang^{1,*} & Weiyuan Fan¹

¹*Xi'an Aeronautical polytechnic institute, China*

Abstract: The necessity and viability of combining moral education cultivation with labor education are becoming more and more apparent in the context of the new era. We investigate the practical means of fusing ideological and political education with labor education, using the Marxist perspective of labor as the theoretical framework and integrating the current realistic labor situation of college students in China. We may promote college students' labor consciousness, labor emotion, respect for labor, and love for labor through the practical activities of ideological and political education and labor education. We fully acknowledge the students' primary role in the process of moral education, allow them to actively engage in learning and work, integrate ideological and political education materials that have a global impact and provide useful advice for students' lives and growth into their daily lives, and achieve a profound integration of moral education cultivation and labor education for college students.

Keywords: moral education cultivation; college students; labor education

1. Introduction

The combination of college students' labor education and moral education is to make college students form correct values and labor spirit through labor education. Colleges and universities combine students' daily behavior standard education with ideological and political practice activities, carry out ideological and moral education and cultivate spiritual education that loves majors, is brave in innovation and is willing to contribute.

Cultivate students' social practice ability by organizing social practice activities of college students; Giving full play to the functions of various departments of the school and jointly organizing their implementation are conducive to guiding college students to establish correct labor views and values and cultivating their spirit of hard work.

2. Connotation of labor education for college students

The connotation of college students' labor education refers to the ideological and political education for college students who have the pursuit of labor spirit, labor quality and labor value with the goal of promoting their all-round development, so that college students can form a correct world outlook, outlook on life and values, cultivate the spirit of hard work, hard work and dedication, and correctly handle the ideological quality of the relationship between man and nature and between people; Armed with scientific theory to promote the sublimation of rationality and sensibility and the perfection of personality and sociality. (Wang et al., 2022). The goal of labor education plays a special role in the ideological and political education of college students. Labor spirit education is an important way of labor spirit education, and it is an

Corresponding Author: Wendong Wang

Xi'an Aeronautical polytechnic institute, China.

Email: wangwedongnote@163.com ideological quality of cultivating the spirit of hard struggle and correctly handling the relationship between man and nature and between people.(Chen, 2021)

The following are some components of labor education: the role of labor spirit education as a guide in implementing labor spirit education; the importance of practical exercises in developing students' labor spirit; the importance of daily life in developing students' life knowledge and skills; the importance of scientific research in developing students' labor spirit; and the acquisition of cultural knowledge. The main goals of university students' involvement in everyday production work and social practice activities are the acquisition of cultural information and the development of varied skills (Feng, 2021). One of the key components to achieving the objective of college students' labor education is college students' participation in a variety of production activities with self-service as the primary content and their capacity to complete and finish labor activities within their own capacity. Additionally, one of the target components of college students' participation in daily production activities is to reflect social needs in the process of social practice activities. To sum up, one of the most direct and efficient ways to accomplish the objectives of daily production activities of college students is to carry out all types of production practice activities with students as the primary body and contribute to the accomplishment of their own development goals.

3.The significance of labor education serving as a vehicle for political and ideological education for college students.

Labor education is an important measure to implement moral education, and ideological and political education of college students plays an important role in cultivating socialist builders and successors with all-round development of morality, intelligence, physique and beauty. At present, it is the fundamental requirement for labor education in colleges and universities to play the role of ideological and political education to cultivate new people with the heavy responsibility of national rejuvenation. It is of great significance for college students to participate in labor education:

(1) It aids in fostering college students' sense of social responsibility, develops sound work ethics, and lays the groundwork for both social and personal development (Liu, 2022).

(2) It enhances their capacity for self-life and practical ability and promotes their all-around development by cultivating the quality of adversity and hard effort.

(3) It is helpful to cultivate college students' excellent qualities such as dedication, Excellence, pioneering and innovative, unity and cooperation. Only by training and shaping themselves through labor education and practice can contemporary college students in China contribute to the society with strong personal spiritual motivation and intellectual support. Therefore, through labor education, not only can college students move from the "ivory tower" to the "melting pot" of society, but also can enable students to establish correct values and moral character at different stages of life.(Zeng, 2022).

4.Ways and methods of integrating moral education into labor education of college students

As an important place to train talents, colleges and universities must focus on labor education. College students are the future of the country. Strengthening labor education is an important way to improve college students' comprehensive quality and enhance their skills. Ideological and political education for students is an important part of ideological and political education for college students. The position and function of ideological and political education in colleges and universities are mainly reflected in the following aspects: 1) developing students' labor practice skills; 2) assisting in the process of ideological and political character development; 3) having an impact on college students' psychological health; and 4) playing a significant part in developing students' innovation ability, entrepreneurial consciousness, vocational skills, and social service consciousness (Jiang, 2022). The importance of ideological and political education in the development and success of college students is therefore something that colleges and universities should fully comprehend, further enhancing the sense of urgency and duty.

4.1 Enhance college students' ideological comprehension of the ideological and political education function of labor education

(1) Improve political status and include labor education in the educational system's talent cultivation program. To achieve the core goal of raising morally upright individuals, it is essential to place a high value on vocational education and to state explicitly that students' overall moral, intellectual, physical, social, and artistic development is a must. To create a cohesive cultivation force, labor education should be incorporated into the overall school planning, the school's talent development program, and the entire talent cultivation process (Zhang, 2021).

(2) Adhere to the problem orientation and focus on solving labor education problems. Investigate and study some practical problems existing in students' study and life, dig deep into the elements of ideological and political education and its value connotation, and fundamentally solve the problems of value confusion and moral cognition deviation in students' study; Adhere to the connotation of "cultivating morality through labor", "cultivating physique through labor" and "educating people through labor" to continuously expand and enrich; We should give full play to the role of classroom teaching as the main channel, and actively explore diversified and multi-level practical teaching, social practice and other ways and means of labor education (Li, 2022).

4.2 Clear ideological and political education goals in college students' labor education.

Nowadays, the country has issued a series of guiding documents on labor education, although the current upsurge of "advocating labor", "loving labor" and "the greatest labor" has swept the national colleges and universities. At present, labor education is mostly physical labor education, which makes students go out to the fields, overemphasizes practicality and lacks enough ideological content, thus failing to form the same concept as students' ideological and political education. Labor education and ideological and political education are closely related, They support and promote each other, and jointly cultivate students' comprehensive quality and sense of social responsibility. Labor education is an important way to improve students' labor literacy. College students can learn and master basic labor skills in the process of labor, such as farming, cooking, cleaning and programming, and cultivate their teamwork spirit, problem-solving ability, innovative thinking and independent living ability, which will have a positive impact on their future life and career development. Labor is not only the foundation of human survival and development, but also the embodiment of human value and dignity. College students should experience the hard work and dedication, feel the satisfaction and achievements brought by labor, and further understand and recognize the beauty of labor. By participating in labor, we can realize the practical application of knowledge and skills, exercise college students' physique and will, enhance their sense of social responsibility and personality cultivation, and promote all-round development in ideological and moral, knowledge and skills, physical health, aesthetic education and other aspects.

4.3 Perfecting the guarantee system for college students' labor education to play the role of ideological and political education.

Strengthening college students' labor education is a realistic need to improve the quality of personnel training and the level of ideological and political work in colleges and universities. At present, college students are not enthusiastic about participating in labor, and some students are even unwilling to participate in social practice activities. In view of this phenomenon, the author thinks that it is urgent to strengthen college students' ideological and political education in the process of labor. College students' labor education is the objective requirement of China's advanced productive forces and advanced cultural construction. Labor is the most glorious and the most beautiful, and it is the value pursuit and conscious action of the whole society. Therefore, college labor courses must be highly valued.

Labor class in colleges and universities is an indispensable part of ideological and political education in colleges and universities and an important way to realize the function of ideological and political education for college students. Perfecting the security system of labor education, strengthening the training of labor consciousness, practical skills and resource integration are the ways to improve the security system of labor education. The concrete measures are: 1) to establish a labor education system in colleges and universities; 2) To improve teachers' professional quality and teaching level; 3) Strengthening the reform of course management and practical teaching; 4) Improve the comprehensive quality of college students and their professional quality.

5. Conclusion

With the passage of time and the advancement of society, labor education has evolved to the point that it is now considered to be a necessary component of higher education. Labor education is a crucial component of social development and has a significant impact on college students' development and success. However, there are several issues with college students' moral education that cause them to repeatedly do poorly during the real learning process.

Therefore, it is important to strengthen the research on the methods of college students' moral education in order to encourage more students to actively participate in the practical activities of labor education. This will help to improve the negative phenomenon in the process of labor education. Strengthening the research on moral education's methods is essential for enhancing the moral education of college students since it will enable more of them to actively engage in labor education's practical activities, enhancing their overall quality and aptitude.

Acknowledgement

This research was funded by 1) Shaanxi province education science "The 14th five-year plan" year 2022 project; 2) Project of 2022 scientific research program of Xi'an Aeronautical polytechnic institute.

Conflict of Interest

The authors declare that they have no conflicts of interest to this work.

References

- Wang, B., Yi, X., & Ye, X. (2022). The connotation, value and implementation path of labor education for college students in the new era. Journal of Hainan Normal University (Social Science Edition), 35(1), 72–77.
- Chen, C. (2021). The connotation and cultivation path of labor education for college students in the new era. Continuing Education Research, 4, 132–134.
- Feng, X. (2021). The connotation characteristics and promotion strategies of labor education for college students in the new era. University, 46, 113–115.
- Liu, D. (2022). Research on countermeasures for college students' labor education to play the function of ideological and political education. Intellectual Classroom, 18, 94–96.
- Zeng, X. (2022). An analysis of the ideological and political education function of labor education for college students in the new era. Journal of Hunan Mass Media Vocational Technology College, 22(2), 66–70.
- Jiang, P. (2022). The integration of labor education into moral education of college students in the new era. Chinese Information, 10, 136–138.
- Zhang, L. (2021). The integration and innovative application of ideological elements in labor education for college students in higher education--a review of Labor Education for College Students in the New Era. Science and Technology Management Research, 41(19), back insert 10.

Li, Y. (2022). Research on the path of integrating labor education into ideological and political theory courses of colleges and universities in the new era. Beijing Education (Moral Education), 5, 63–67.

How to Cite: Wang, W., & Fan, W. (2022). Research into the Best Practices for Incorporating Moral Growth into the Creation of College Students' Vocational Education. Contemporary Education and Teaching Research, 4(2), 66–70.
<https://doi.org/10.47852/bonviewCETR2023040206>